

Calvary United Methodist Church
Lord's Acre 2010

Dear Church Family,

A year has flown and we are once again in the planning stages of another Lord's Acre. This year's theme is I am the Church, You are the Church, We are the Church Together. Mark Saturday, November 6th on your calendars to come celebrate and honor Calvary's mission while enjoying delicious food, fellowship and fun.

In case you are new to Calvary, last year the auction venue was at the church rather than the expensive Civic Center. Unfortunately, our Fellowship hall did not have the space to display hundreds of auction items, so the auction was Live Auction only and all items were services rather than goods. The 2010 planning committee has studied the records and post-auction comments from past years. In order to accommodate both space restrictions and attendee requests, this year's auction will be a blending of old and new formats.

The auction excitement will begin October 17th with a luncheon hosted by the Wesleyan Class, immediately following worship. There will be delicious food and some things to spark your interest for the big day.

Auction night also begins with food (what a surprise). During the meal you may bid on the items that will be displayed on the Silent Auction tables. The Live Auction will host approximately 50 items. There will be a combination of services and hopefully 5 large ticket items. The Bake Sale will feature some of the most delicious treats in Lamar County. There will also be a Country Store offering something for everyone.

It is your continued support and enthusiasm that keeps our Lord's Acre going strong and contributing to God's work at Calvary United Methodist Church. Your love, dedication and spirit support our church and make Calvary all that it is to our community.

Sincerely,
